

Robert Runkle has over 35 years of experience in science and business, managing multimillion dollar projects for world class corporations. Bob's background includes scientific research at Schering-Plough and Walter Reed Institute of Research, and technical management at VWR International, worldwide export of scientific equipment and laboratory supplies. Bob brings with him a network of third-party experts who are world-class trainers and consultants.

Bob Runkle has a BS in Management (with honors) and a BS in Chemistry.